
Transitions are binary presence observations; they do not assess configuration quality, workflow success or citation completeness.